PVH is proud to partner with leading organizations committed to helping drive fashion forward – for good in sustainability, philanthropy, and inclusion & diversity.

As one of the world’s largest and most admired fashion companies in the world, we recognize the opportunity and our responsibility to take a stand for what is right.

Here’s what they have to say:

SAVE THE CHILDREN
“PVH has been a committed partner to Save the Children for more than a decade,” said Carolyn Miles, President and CEO of Save the Children. “We are so grateful for their support of children from preschoolers to young adults.”

COUNCIL OF FASHION DESIGNERS OF AMERICA (CFDA)
“PVH is one of the first fashion companies to be certified as a Great Place to Work – a testament to the way PVH treats its associates. In my efforts to understand how fashion companies work to be inclusive and diverse, I reached out to a number of companies and in conversation with PVH, I was so impressed with what they were doing,” said Steven Kolb, President and CEO of the CFDA.

FASHION FOR GOOD
Katrin Ley, Managing Director of Fashion for Good, on the partnership with PVH: “PVH Corp. has a strong legacy in corporate responsibility, which it is advancing through innovative approaches to social and environmental issues. Together, we will focus on innovations that offer better alternatives and enable transparency and traceability across the value chain, from source to store, with the ultimate aim to make fashion a force for good.”

WWF
formerly World Wildlife Foundation
“As major trends like urbanization, population growth and climate change exacerbate existing water issues, water is not only an urgent environmental issue but also a risk to business,” said Sheila Bonini, Senior Vice President of WWF. “Water stewardship partnerships like the one with PVH are a commitment to the management of shared water resources in the public interest.”

GOOGLE
“We are working with PVH to become a digital lighthouse in the fashion space through data-driven and consolidated marketing,” said Michael Burke, Industry Director Branded Apparel & Durables of Google.

PLUG AND PLAY

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY GABELLI SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
“The partnership will prove that two organizations with very similar values, but in very different industries, can meaningfully connect to support social and environmental good at a time when we need it most,” said Donna Rapaccioi, Ph.D., dean of the Gabelli School of Business.

HOWARD UNIVERSITY
“We are excited to welcome PVH as a new partner for many reasons, including our shared values. The company’s legacy and impact are unparalleled, and the ongoing commitment to individuality, integrity, accountability and diversity make PVH an ideal partner, not just for the Honors Program within the School of Business, but for students across our campus,” said Dr. Kanika Jones, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs of the SBEL program.

THE MEMORIAL FOUNDATION
“For well over 15 years, PVH has been more than a partner to both The Memorial Foundation and prior to that, The Martin Luther King Jr. National Memorial Foundation. While building the MLK Memorial, PVH stood by us in hand in hand to ensure that the memorial in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. would be one of everlasting appeal to all people no matter their race, color or creed. How proud we are of the continued partnership that has allowed the Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial to stand out as a beacon of ‘Democracy, Justice, Hope and Love not just for our Country, but indeed for the entire world’ said Harry Johnson, President and CEO of The Memorial Foundation.

SAFE HORIZON
“PVH and Safe Horizon have had a wonderful and vital partnership for 20 years,” said Ariel Zwang, CEO of Safe Horizon. “We are so grateful for their support — through both contributions and volunteer efforts — on multiple areas of our work. This includes our domestic violence programs and their most recent generous multi-year commitment to help us continue providing a safe space, warm meals, counseling and most of all, hope to young people through our Streetwork Project for homeless youth.”
The Fresh Air Fund

“Thanks to the incredible generosity of Tommy Hilfiger and PVH, over the past 20 years, 10,000 young men, ages 12 to 15, have grown from boys to young men at The Fresh Air Fund’s Camp Tommy. Built on a foundation of brotherhood, leadership training and mentorship, Camp Tommy provides a safe environment where boys grow into responsible adults. Our campers create life-long friendships, learn from their counselors who serve as mentors and role models, all while having fun in the outdoors. OnePulse

“PVH’s dedication to Inclusion and Diversity and putting people first was a natural fit for us,” said Barbara Poma, onePulse Foundation CEO. “The PVH family lost one of their own at Pulse, and their support of onePulse and to honor their associate and each of the 49 lives taken is incredibly touching and powerful.”

Ronald McDonald House New York

“For nearly two decades, PVH has been a valued corporate partner with Ronald McDonald House New York,” said Ruth Browne, President & CEO of Ronald McDonald House New York. “From sponsoring meals to Days of Service, PVH employees go above and beyond to support our children and families. Not only do PVH volunteers donate their time, but they also help organize special events for our children and give back to the House financially, supporting our mission of keeping families close. Time and again, PVH has proven to be an outstanding supporter of the House and has helped further our goal of allowing kids to be kids first and kids with cancer second.”

So we listened closely, and began creating different kinds of bras and underwear, the kind that women could live in: soft, stretchy, supportive, pretty, confidence-boosting, and above all, designed and made for comfort.

We know how important it is to be comfortable – in your bra, and in your skin.

From our beginnings, True & Co’s brand mission has been to listen to the voices of women. When we dare to be true – especially when it comes to our bodies – thoughts, people, culture and ultimately the world we live in changes.
